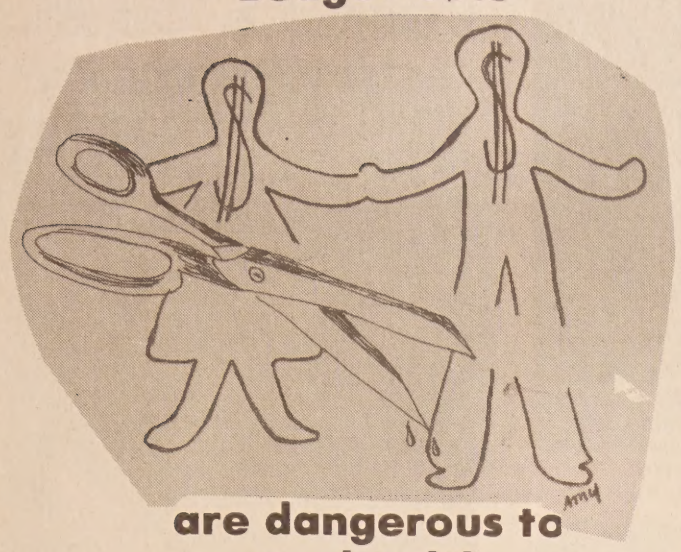
Warning Budget Cuts



are dangerous to our health

"We Must Balance The...."

"We Must Balance The...."

The point is not whether to cut or not to cut, the question is where shall the axe fall. For a little survey as to the effects of the cuts so far on the poor and disadvantaged in Tacoma, let's look at the Poverty Agency - Metropolitan Development Council (MDC) whose principal funder was the Community Services Administration. All programs are virtually wiped out except the ones funded through other funding sources such as EORC Educational Opportunities Resource Center - (Department of Education) The Center - (National Institute of Drug Abuse) The controversial Cuban Refugee Program (Congress). Next look at the Tacoma Urban League loss of Department of Labor funds (CETA) (LEAP) has stymied their ability to deliver services and client load is still growing. Next Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC) a loss of all CETA funds. Hopefully they will not die - through the efforts of volunteers, Board members and a new Director - they will be able to continue on their mission of training the hardcore unemployable. A look at the County's proposed budget and a lot of people programs are on the chopping block i.e. Rape Relief, Poison Center. The City of Tacoma is also getting ready for the public hearings on its budget. The position of the legislature in Olympia - The Governor asking, The Republicans forcing him to say he will seek a coalition to get his program through- All this because President Reagan promised a balanced budget by 1985 or sometime down the road. Too beat all things on this day - of writing, the National News media is carrying a story about Dave Stockman, President Reagan's chief 'Hatchet' man who, according to some interviews, he gave a well known Magazine He is supposed to have said in essence, He doesn't believe the Reagan Program of cuts will work...Anyway back to square one To cut or not to cut or what else is new.

Jerry McLaughlin

Jerry McLaughlin, of Graves & Associates advertising and Public Relations, was named the recipient of a Special Award of Recognition to an alumnus of Fort steilacoom Community College in a ceremony at the college November 4, during an open house celebrating the college's 15th Anniversary. The award, which was granted for service to the community and to the college, was presented by Maj. Gen. Jack K. Gamble, chairman of FSCC's board of trustees. McLaughlin, who graduated from FSCC in 1971 with a degree in Mid-Management, is also a part-time instructor at FSCC for advertising and public relations classes. He recrived a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Marketing from the University of Puget Sound in 1974. McLaughlin stated that his basic philosophy on community service is "by helping others you can help improve yourself." He volunteers 300-400 hours per year to community activities, including service as a board member of the Tacoma Urban League, the Ndaba cultural Ensemble, and the afro Pageant committee, and participation in Small Business administration workshops in 1979-1980. He is also a member of the UPS Alumni Association; Friends of Channel 62, for which he served as President in 1981; Puget Sound Advertising federation; and the Business and Professional advertising Association. McLaughlin served as production manager for Graves and Associates from 1974-78 and has been an account executive for the firm since 1976. He is a former editor for the Tacoma fActs Community Newspaper (1971-72). He was named Potential Black Leader of the 80's by the Northwest Chapter of Black Appointed and Elected Officials in 1979 and received the Distinguished Achievement Award of the Charles Drew Sickle cell Clinic in 1974. McLaughlin said, "If not for Fort steilacoom and in particular the late Mr. Ed Hagenau, I surely doubt if I would be in the position that I am today. Mr. Hagenau had a positive attitude that made my dreams of 'being in advertising' seem possible." Hagenau was instructor and director of the Mid-Management program, now called Management Training, at FSCC during the time McLaughlin was attending the college.

Flu Immunization Encouraged

With the onset of the cold and flu season, the American Lung Association of Washington reminds residents that the best protection against these diseases is early immunization. During influenza epidemics, influenza-related deaths occur primarily among "high risk" individuals: the elderly, young children, and those suffering from chronic illness. Since 1968, more than 150,000 excess deaths are estimated to have occured during flu epidemics in the U.S.

"The innoculation of all high risk flu candidates is one of the most important preventive measures that we can take against the flu," says Jodi Olson, ALAW program associate. "The vaccinations have proven to be seventy to ninety percent effective," she says, "and an early immunization will allow the body to build up a strong defense."

Hooks Addresses Rally

More than 600 people gathered in the Peoples Community Center on 17th & K Street in Tacoma Thursday, November 5th to hear Benjamin Hooks, Executive Director of the NAACP. Hooks was the main attraction of the Tacoma Chapter of the NAACP's Freedom Fund Rally.

While Mr. Hooks elaborated on several issues, he emphasized the affect the Reagan cuts were on the poor. "Johnson had a war against poverty—Reagan has a war against the poor,"he said. He urge his listeners to band together and say to Washington "WE know where you are coming from and we ain't going there." He discussed Black pride, while encouraging Blacks to keep the families together.

"We should always be proud of our heritage. We should never give up for we must fight no longer nor beg, but demand what we want. Send letters and telegrams to Reagan, tell him how we feel. We should not despair but prepare. Utilize our strength. Pursue an eductaion but don't get the "big head" Remember who fought for us and died. Desire to read the Bible. Watch what we let our children watch on television. Teach them about our Black historians, teach them morality. Find out where is God in your life.

Mental Health And You

Have you ever been upset by a sudden change in your life such as a death in the family or the loss of a job? have you recently experienced a long case of despair and unhappiness? have you noticed a personality change in a family member that can't be explained? Are there conflicts in your family with your spouse or children? In our society, each of the above situations could be a sign of mental health problems. It is safe to say that almost everbody has experienced at least one of the above situations, but does that mean that we all have mental health problems? The answer, of course, is no. But when those problems interfere with daily living or when the strain of modern life is too difficult to bear, then help is needed.

Where can people turn for help for these problems? A friend or family member is a good place to start. Sometimes a doctor or religious leader has the wisdom to help. In some cultures, people seek healers, shaman or people with knowledge of plants and herbs for help. All of these people can be very helpful, but sometimes friends lack enough knowledge, families are not always understanding, or healers are not available. therefore, people must have another place to go for help and in our society, it is the Mental Health Center.

People have very different views on what mental health centers are. Many believe that they are hospitals or that only "crazy people" are seen there. This belief is not true. It is not a hospital, but instead a place where you visit one hour a week to talk, seek advice, and solve problems. A person does not need to have severe problems to go to a mental health center for help. In fact, one goal in counseling is to deal with small problems early, to keep them from becoming big ones. In addition to counseling, mental health centers offer services to senior citizens, a 24-hour emergency phone service and community education programs. As you can see, the Mental Health Center can provide a variety of services to many of us in the community.

SCLC's Lowery Deplores Haitian Deaths And U.S. Policy; Asks For U.N. Hearing

We are both saddened and angered by the deaths of 33 Haitian refugees off the coast of Florida. It is our hope that the bodies of these refugees will find resting places in the U.S. near their relatives (whom they sought to join), even though U.S. policy denied them asylum and the right to be with their relatives in life.

We strongly object to the interdiction policy of the Reagan administration which is inconsistent with U.S. policy regarding refugees from totalitarian governments in Russia, Eastern Europe and Southeast Asia. The fierce resistance on the part of the administration to efforts by Haitians to gain asylum from political, social and economic oppression, can only be interpreted as socially biased when compared to our free admission of immigrants from Russian, Eastern Europe and Asia.

We urge the reconsideration of U.S. policy regarding Haitians and we have wired the United Nations Commission on Human Rights to investigate U.S. policy of interdiction and overall treatment of Haitian refugees.

The posture of the Reagan administration toward Haitians is apparently part of a persistent disregard for the human righs of refugees of African descent. The new "friendly" attitude toward South Africa, the announcements about refugee allocations and the decision to eliminate extended voluntary departure for Ethiopian nationals, as well as the Haitian policy, all are indicative of a discriminatory attitude toward black refugees.

Mental Health

Mental Health Centers are open to everyone, regardless of income. Each center in the Tacoma/Pierce County area uses a sliding fee scale to charge for services. This sliding fee scale takes into account income and family size, insuring that even those with very little money can afford professional help. Also many private health insurance policies, medicare, and public assistance will provide at least partial coverage for mental health services.

If you or a family member are having a problem, Pierce County has three Mental Health Centers to provide help. The one you may use depends on where you live. Basically, if you live in Tacoma, you would go to Comprehensive Mental Health Center (597-8200). In Lakewood, Steilacoom, Parkland and Spanaway, you would go to Greater Lakes Mental Health center (584-8933). Finally, if you live in Eastern Pierce County (including Puyallup, Sumner, Fife, Milton and South Hill) you would go to Good Samaritan Mental Health Center (848-5571). If there is any doubt just call any of the centers and they will direct you to the right location. If you feel uncomfortable about calling the centers, please contact Wendy Watanabe or Mike Rutkowsky at Good Samaritan Mental Health Center, Minority Affairs Program (848-5571) for assistance.

New Warnings: Those "Easy Diets" May Bring Danger To Health--Even Death

Doe Millions of Americans, dieting has become part of the American way of life. But Nutrition experts are beginning to worry that, at least in some cases, the latest national obsession could be too much of a good t h i n g.

One extreme danger receiving public attention recently is a strange disease called anorexia nervosa in which the victim is unable to stop dieting--and it is all but impossible to treat. According to psychotherapists, only about half of its victims fully recover and as many as 15 of every 100 die

Total fasting, which has resulted in some deaths, is another.

Government health officials, moreover, have issued warnings that some diet fads can be harmful, and sometimes fatal.

The Food and Drug Administration(FDA), for example, has cautioned dieters about the dangers in the liquid-protein diet. According to a FDA report, people on a diet of liquid-protein and nothing more may be running a risk of a fatal heart attack that is 30 times greater than those not on the diet.

These warnings, however, seem to be having little effect on the millions of Americans who seem ready to try almost anything to lose weight--encouraged perhaps by images of svelte actors and models on television AND TRIM JOGGERS ON CITY STREETS EVERYWHERE.

Books on health and dieting appear regularly on best-seller lists. Fitness and weight-control clinics flourish, and a multimillion-dollar heath-food industry has emerged to accomodate the latest nutrition enthusiasms. One group even proclaims that it can control weight through prayer.

At least some of the methods apparently work. The variety of diets available, mainly through books and magazine articles, is limited only by the imagination of the practitioner. Health experts applaud the trend toward dieting, because about 70 million Americans - nearly one out of three-are 10 pounds or more overweight. As many as 30 million of these qualify as obese w weighing at least 20more than their ideal weight.

Unfortunately for these fat Americans, there are no simple answers. There is such an abundance of information of fitness and weight control that even experts disagree on the best way to diet safely and n u t r i t i o n a l l y.

There is little or no government regulation of diet and nutrition, but the FDA can step in when a product tht could be dangerous is involved. The liquid-protein diet is one such example.

Other diets now popular also rely on heavy concentrations of protein. Among these is the so-called drinking man's diet, which calls for nearly unlimited intake of meat, eggs and cheese and elimination of all carbo-hydrates.

These diets, which are supposed to help get rid of fat without destroying lean muscle, can also be harmful, according to the American Medical Association (AMA). Unpleasant side effects may include fatigue, dizziness, nausea,low blood pressure and kidney ailments.

As with any sensible diet, nutritionists say, high-protein, low-carbohydrate diets simply will not work unless the total number of calories is reduced. Some diets, which call for cutting intake of salt or sugar, are perhaps more nutritionally sound. But, say health experts, these diets can create cravings for sweet or sour foods that often lead to midnight raids on the refrigerator.

Other diets, which more effective, also can ose health problems. Vegetarians, for exaMPLE, ARE GENERALLY THIN, BUT NUTRITIONISTS SAY THAT THEY RUN THE RISK OF INGESTING TOO LITTLE PROTEIN. A well-balanced vegetarian regimen, however, seems to reduce the chances of heart disease and some types of cancer, according to medical a u t h o r i t i e s.

Science is still baffled about the causes of obesity since, unlike many other mammals, human beings will not stop eating when their caloric intake is sufficient.

Family Affair At The Ranch

Halloween is over for most of us---but not for some. The memories will linger on for years. Some memories are very happy while there are still some of horror. . .

This week Who's Who will not highlight the sick activities that occur in our communities during this time, but moreover, focus on a healthier outlook for Halloween.

There were many churches, organizations, businesses and individuals responsible for a safer and enjoyable halloween this year. Not only did the children take part in the festive fun, but the adults as well.

Remember the Hay rides, the games played, the masquerade parades/parties. Remember how much fun it was to laugh...

Eastside Community Church was one of the groups who saw fit to bring some of that nostalgia back to life as they celebrated their 3rd Annual Barnyard Feast at the Ranch in Yelm, Washington. More than 400 people, young and old attended.

Today, there are parties for little people or children, teenagers or young adults, adults and now senior citizens. But not a lot for the whole family. Now each each one of the things I just referred to were all called Halloween parties but all was not invited.

As the years continue to come and go, the frightening though occurs to me that this is the time families need to be together. Not just because its halloween, but because its another opportunity to enjoy the ones we love. Or could it be that the love that used to seal the family together has escaped to an unknown l a n d . . .

It appears that Eastside Community Church had an idea one that would bring the whole family together. They reached out to not only their church members but into the community.

Sharing played a significant role in this barnyard feast endeavor. They all worked hard together. According to Robert Penton, a minister at the Eastside Church, their team, comprised of teenagers and adults gained planning skills, understanding, discipline and respect for each other. He particularly recalled the teenagers. They were behind the scene working hard. They were responsible for a great number of tickets being sold. They were preparing for an affair that they could feel and experience the gratification of success. These teenagers not only decorated the cite, but they made constructive decision about everything. More importantly, they worked together.

This was to be an event that all could enjoy. The parents AND OTHER ADULTS WORKED WITH THE YOUTH. They all shared in the excitement.

The whole family was involved. The whole family were able to grow closer to one another. Laughter was at its all time height.

I don't want to get carried away about the behnd the scene team without including the businesses that donated goods, services as wells money. Nor the organizations and individuals who equally supported this successful venture. Had it not been for them perhaps you might be reading about how Tommy and Jane were sick or dead now instead.

FAmilies large and small in number were able to attend just because groups bought tickets for those unable to buy their own. Just think, how would you feel, if you wanted to take your children but you had too many children to afford to go at $5.00 per person.– More than 400 people, children, teenagers and adults were able to have dinner and treats.

much more can be said in this short space, but I'd like to sum it all up with Thanks Eastside for Sharing...thanks Supporters for supporting Thanks everyone, young and old for Coming...

Scriptures

Psalms 121

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved; he that keepeth thee will not slumber. The Lord is thy keeper; the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand. The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night. The Lord shall preserve thee from evil; he shall preserve thy soul. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.

Religious Films

Two religious films will be shown at Miles Memorial C.M.E. Church on November 20, 1981, starting at 7:00 p.m. Admission is free.

1. A Thief In The Night is a dramatic portrayal of what happened when Jesus Christ returns. This suspenseful story center around a young woman caught up in living for the present, with little concern about the future. The rapture predicted in bible prophecy takes place , leaving the young woman in a world which forces her to make a choice: wither for a life of fleeing the inevitable suffering and death; or for unite, a new world government which rejects Jesus Christ and forces citizens to receive the "mark" of the Beast. This movie portrays the Biblical predictions, "There will be no place to hide" Rev. 20:11

2) A Distant Thunder is a moving account of what may happen during the Great Tribulation. This film begins where A Theif In The Night ended. Now in prison, this young lady faces the choice of being branded with the mark of the Beast or dying as a martyr.
These classic films on Bible prophecy are powerful evangelistic film that has helped thousands to find salvation in Jesus Christ.

A Welcome To The New Mrs. Franklin Burgess, the Former Treava Whitted of Silver Springs, Maryland

The Alpha Phi Alpha fall Dinner Dance was Tre's Superb Last Saturday evening, November 7th. The hosts greeted each guest warmly and friendly as you entered the ballroom at Fort Lewis Officers Club, then escorted you to your host's table and politely seated the lady at the table. For one hour complementary drinks of your choice were served, before the bountiful buffet which included a dinner wine. Later in the evening for your dancing pelasure "Roots DJ" provided the music. The dance floor was filled to capacity from the beginning sound until the blinking of lights to let you know it was time to say good night. This evening with the Mulamda, Tacoma Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, was a real treat with good old fashioned hospitality. Committee Chairman is Jewel Williams and President is Col. Joseph E. Green, Jr.

Sisters reunite at duty station

by Lelia Cornwell

Madigan Army Medical Center became the site for a "family reunion" for two sisters in the military while assigned to the facility at the same time.

Born in Opelousas, Louisiana the pair took separate paths in their lives to eventually reach the "road junction" at MAMC.

The older of the two, Lt. Col. Ida Richard, studied Food and Nutrition at Southern University. Following graduation in June 1962, this family "trailblazer" set her course for the Army in the dietetic program with her first tour of duty at Letterman Army Medical Center.

Since then, Richard has earned her master of science degree in Institutional Manager nt from Ohio State University, a law degree from the University of Puget Sound and an associate of arts degree from Tacoma Community College in real estate.

As chief of the MAMC Food Service Division since December 1977, Richard (the last name pronounced in French fashion with an accent on the second syllable) oversees 90 military and civilian personnel who prepare 1,600 meals daily for military and patients.

Richard is responsible for operating all food service activities, planning and controlling the overall operation of the division, and exercising supervision over all phases of the food service activities, including administrative and therapeutic aspects. Her duties include reviewing and analyzing current work methods to improve and simplify operation procedures; initiating control measures to effect economical and effective utilization of manpower, equipment, supplies and funds — ensuring proper standards of sanitation, safety and security are maintained within the division; and ensuring proper dietetic treatment as prescribed by the medical and dental officer.

"At one time dieticians were viewed as glorified cooks," says Richard. "Today's physicians are giving us more recognition as dietary specialists. They are seeking assistance from us."

Recently, a younger sister, 2nd Lt. Gloria Richard reported to Madigan for several weeks as part of her medical training. Most of her didactic rotation period was spent with the Department of OB-GYN. She expects to return to MAMC as a medical intern next year.

Lt. Col. Ida Richard who resides in Gig Harbor with her husband, Roy, a retired Army veteran who is pursuing a law degree at the University of Puget Sound, says she is "extremely proud" of her little sister who, according to the field grade officer "is quite a bookworm and a diligent; serious student who is positive about everything."

Gloria Richard earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Biology from Southern University. Upon graduating she attended Louisiana State University Medical School and will graduate from there in May 1982.

Her husband, Rodney, is a second lieutenant attending Tulane Medical School and hopes to be assigned to MAMC.

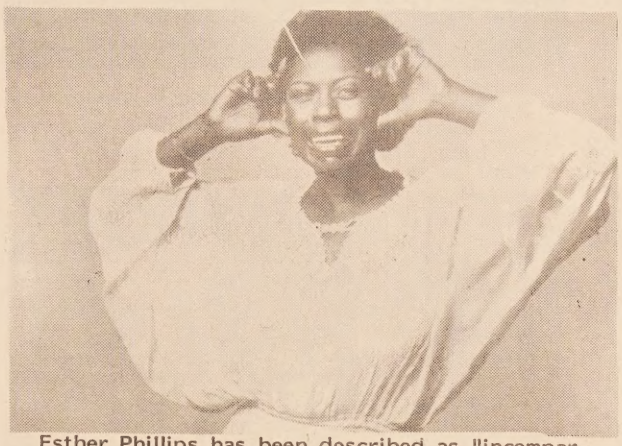
OIC Brings Esther



Esther Phillips has been described as "incomparable," and "original" (Hollywood Reporter, Oct. 19, 1981), "an inspiration" (Performance, Sept. 15, 1978) and a purely "superb talent " (Cashbox, May 19, 1979). On Sunday, November 22, Ms. Phillips will make her first appearance in Tacoma at the Bicentennial Pavilion. There will be a 7:30 and a 9:30 show with cabaret style seating and a no-host bar.

Ms. Phillips, known as "Little Esther" in the early years of her career, has been a major force in the music business for thirty years. She recorded her first hit "Double Crossing Blues" (in one take) which went on to sell a million copies. Other top ten hits include "Release Me" and her biggest pop recording "What a Difference a Day Makes." Ms. Phillips' career also includes many television appearances which range from several BBC specials with the Beatles in 1965 to "Saturday Night Live" in 1978.

Sponsored by the Tacoma/Pierce Co. OIC, tickets are available at the OIC office, 10th and Pacific; the Bon Ticket Office, Tacoma Mall; The Bicentennial Pavilion, 1313 Market Street, and the I.T.T. Office at Fort Lewis.

REDISTRICTING TRICKS NO TREAT FOR BLACK MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

BY HON. GUS SAVAGE
First Black journalist ever elected to Congress

When I dealt with the subject of reapprotionment on the national level in this column back in June, I was well aware of the fact that my State of Illionis would lose two congressional seats. However, while it was speculated by some that my Second Congressional District might be placed in jeopardy, it was not evident then that a move would actually be made to eliminate my district--one of three held by Blacks in Chicago.

As of this writing the scenario ran like this: Former Illionis Governor Richard Ogilvie, a Reaganite Republican, and former Illionis Secretary of State Michael Howlett, an old machine Democrat, joined in a so-called bipartisan effort to deal me out of Congress.

I am not suprised that they would like to eliminate my district, because Reagan Republicans, plus some machine Democrats and white liberals combined could not beat me in a fair election last year-- and, since then, I have kept my word with the voters; and I have worked seven days a week to become the nubmer one freshman in Congress.

I am not surprised because I am one of Reagan's most outspoken opponents, and for all of my adult life I have been in the front lines battling for fair political representation for minorities.

We are losing two of our present 24 seats in the U.S. House of Representatives because of our state's population loss based on last year's census. We will lose one seat in Chicago, and one from outside Chicago. Since the state legislature failed to agree on a new map, the matter is being heard by a three-judge panel in the U.S. District Court in Chicago.

Any redistricting proposal, such as the Ogilvie-Howlett one and some other plans which violate the three principles I outlined back in June, is clearly unfair.

First, there is no fair reason to reduce Chicago's Black congressional districts from three to two, since the cit's Black population has increased in the past years; second, for this same reason, there is no fair reason to extend any one of the city's three Black districts into the suburbs; and three, there is no need to shape districts in such a manner as to put the residences of any two Black congressman into the same district.

The far Southside Chicago District is the most populated district in Chicago and has more Black voters than any of the other 434 congressional districts in this nation. So, how can one justify proposing to change the boundaries of the district which requires changing least?

But, "Every goodbye ain't gone" and every proposal does not pass. I have been entered as a petitioner in the federal court case. We are fighting to keep three Black districts but also to keep Reagan from gaining majority control of the U.S. HOuse of Representatives by reducing the number of Democratic members from Illinois in the 1982 elections.

We are fighting, and we shall win, because right is on our side. I will be in Congress long after Reagan is returned to playing grade-B sheriff roles in Hollywood.

The worst form of redistricting that smacks of racism is that which pits two Blacks against each other. In Chicago we are fighting to have a fair map to avoid being in a contest with my longtime friend, Rep. Harold Washington of the First Congressional District. I believe we will not have to oppose one another, despite the wishes of some evil forces to keep Blacks divided by promoting fights between us.

Just as Black unity is needed in Chicago in the redistricting fight, we need Black unity nationally in politics now more than ever to turn Reagan around.

As I said in June, if the potential for Black political power was not diluted through gerrymandering and other tricks, there is no question that we would have more Black members in Congress from across the nation, based on population.

I reiterate that reapportionment is a matter of grave concern for ali Blacks if we are to hold on th the gains we have made in congressional seats. Moreover, if we are to make further gains, we must guard against efforts to pit one Black against another, whether such efforts come from within or from outside.

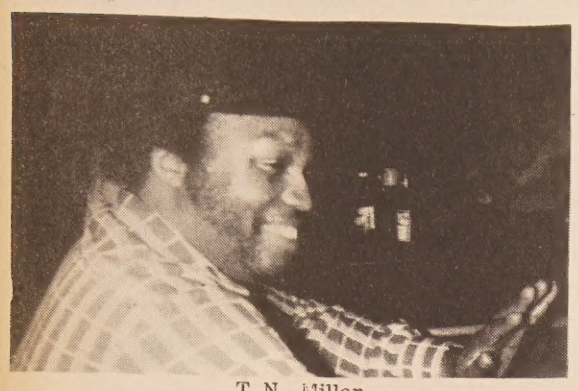
Malcolms Sports Report

He came by the way of Portland Oregon, this young man. With a smile, a gift of gab,



T.N. Miller

and thats not all but, we will not go into that for the time being. He wentto a barber school and got his license to cut hair. The first time I met him was in Woods Barber Shop on 23rd and K at that time. Everybody was laughing and joking as usual. Then, all of a sudden, this loud and unusual laugh caught my attention. It was Tommy Miller, the new barber shop man. We hit it off from that day forward. He later took over the shop and now has his own watering hole, T.N. Millers Tavern that is. The man is somebody who is trying to do things in the community. His Tavern is a nice place to come and have a nice time. He sponsors teams also, So when you see the T.N. Miller sign going down K street, stop in and say Hi. Behind every Successful man there is a women. Jackie Miller is the women and don't forget about Little Tommy. Tommy Miller, keep the Faith my man. What about the SeaHawks? All I can say is it is wonderful. The San Francisco 49ers are for real. Talking to a 49er fan the other night, Oliver, my amin man, had been telling me for a while watch out for them. Remember names like R.C. Owens, Y.A. Tittle, Billy Wislon, and Abe Woodson. Now it is Joe Montana. Ever since he has taken over, they have won. So we will be waiting at playoff time, Oliver! Baker and Junt play for the Junior High title today or should I say tonight at Lincoln Bowl. The local teams in the area will start practice soon in basketball. I will have some interviews with some players and coaches on all levels in the area. Don't forget the Facts Christmas Round Ball Tournament 18-19-20, of Dec. Contact Roger at the Boys Club, 383-2731. That it for now. Contact me on any questions or answers you have. Malcolm 1019 So. 12th St. Tacoma, WA 98405.

Seahawks

The Seattle Seahawks will be looking for their first win in nine attempts against the San Diego Chargers in a 6 pm. game Monday at the Kingdome. The game will be televised nationally by ABC-TV (Channel 4) with Frank Gifford, Howard Cosell and Don Meredith describing the action. Seattle improved its record to 3-7 last week with a come-from-behind win over the Pittsburg Steelers, while the Chargers are 6-4 after a 40-17 loss to the Cincinnati Bengals. The Seattle Seahawks encourage all fans planning to attend the Monday Night football game to arrive early and avoid the traffic. Kickoff is scheduled for 6 pm., but stadium gates will open at 4:30 pm. and the Kingdome parking lot will open at 7 am.

The Panel for Family Living's Speakers Bureau is looking for volunteer speakers. If you would like to share your concern for children while helping to educate the community there will be a training session on child abuse for Speakers Bureau candidates. For more information call 572-5541.

The Tee and Turf Golf Club held it's Annual Awards Banquet last Saturday night at the Doric Motor Hotel. According to C. T. Jones, my contact, everyone had a a swinging good time. (Not with clubs, T. McGee provided the music).
